

Health Education – Summer Assignment, Grade 11

Secure your own copy of The Last Lecture, by Randy Pausch.

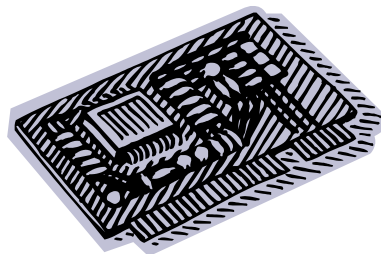

Read the introduction and the first chapter.

Randy states that he has an engineering problem. He must do the best he can with limited resources. Education can be viewed as an engineering problem. Given that you know what you currently have at your disposal, create a multi-page pamphlet which maps out your plan for solving the “problem” of your junior year at the Academy.

Identify the methods you will employ to tackle your academics, co-curricular activities, college prep, social life, possible faith-based involvement, family responsibilities and any other facets of your life not mentioned here.

Be sure to address the issues of; time management, preparation necessary and impact on self, family, classmates and community at large if the “problem” is not addressed appropriately.

Your finished project will be assessed based upon clarity of message, creativity, individuality, neatness and thoroughness.

You will be provided with submission instructions in September.
